property depredated on

It costs an average of 25 cours a day to guard, feed and care for ron viet labor when h is managed on but lness principles. You will also find that in our State a few counties that are working the convicts on the roads have the lost and cheapest roads, and the countles that are blring out the convicts to coal mines, sawmilis or inspentine camps, either have no roads or that they are spending two or three those noce for their bone anbasiness methods

The proposition of working e action lins a bumane side as well as an economic one

Statistics show where the convict is int out in the open air he received ideats of fresh sumshine, sees tio grandeur and benoty of nature be s properly fed, the better side of hine is appealed to, and more than to per cent of them are restored to many cases to their families and be come better creatmes, and no boger are a charge or expense on the pub lie Statistics prove where they are segregated and kept in prisons, to cost mines, sawnitis, that they, as rale, become hardened on account o their environments, and some of the greatest criminals are hatched from what is known as the first and second termers, and about 55 per cent of these upportunite creatures are sissolutely lost, always dangerous and are expensive to State and county por do 1 think to right to pid the ionest wase-earners in competition with convict labor, or the manufactur ing industry in connectition with the one that filres cheap convict labor because the free labor nonnfacturers cannot compete with the industries that have the benefit of convict labor

You will find some opposition to the working of ecaylets on public tombs, but investigation will prove tiat the pmority of protests come from those that are interested, in cheap hisor, coal mines, sawmlits torpentine chaps, and those persons are benefitted by feeding fees and numerous other emoluments-the sherlff and some officeholders

IN MEMORIAM

Alka, the little daughter of Mauford and Hester Skaggs, departed this life July 27, 1906, aged one year, nlie months and ten days. A said parting indeed, dear parents, to give up little Alka, but haw consoling are the words of our Savlor, "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heavere" Little Aika can no more brighten your home here on earth, but heaven has one more shinking lewel. What a grand thought to be the parents of a little angel in heaven.

Little Alka will not have he page through the troubles, hardships and tribulations of life in this cold world. but she has gone to a brighter and better world where life is sweet, where peace reigns forever and ever, Sweet little darling, light of the home, Looking for someone, beckoning come Bright as a simbeam, pure as the dew. ## THE FARM.

POULTRY NOTES.

as the dull season in the poultry buslness, it isn't a difficult matter for the poultry ralser to pick up a numper of extra dimes and dollars and keep tolerably busy with the fowls during the hot months. People like light food during hot months, and fresh-dressed nice-looking poullry sells well every year. It should nud will be in better demand this year than formerly, for the sensational disclosures of the unclenn methods employed in the big packing houses of the country will cause an appreclable decrense in the consumption of beer and by-products, canned goods, etc., and poultry will largely take the place of those unwholesome foods. The farm raiser of poultry will have an opportunity to dispose of lots of surplus fowls, and at good prices. During the next two or three months all the surplus slock of ohl fowls can be gradually sent to market, and sold a few at a time to private parties. In most every village, town and city In the country there are housekeepers who fulrly yearn for some honest countryman to come to their doors with fresh-dressed poultry and fresh eggs. It is an easy matter to make regular customers of those once they ar efound, and thereby ndd a regular sum weekly to the lucome from the fowls. The cockerel weighling a pound and a quarter sells for the squab broller, and when larger for the regular-sized broller. Those about two pounds and a little over sell for frvers, and beyond that figure they generally sell by the pound, nithough the matter is largely regulated by the custom of the locally or community. The thing for the poultry raiser to do if he or she has lots of them into cash is to sludy the market In her particular locality, and cater demands. Eggs should be quickly disposed of during the summer months, clse there will be no profit from them. While non-fertile eggs may safely be sent all over the country during hot weather, fertile ones cannot. They will spoil very quickly, and should be sold or used Sunday School in the county is enas soon after laying as possible. There is no good reason why the hot months should be profitless ones of the county officers. Mr. E. ## DEHORNING CALVES

of eaustle potash in deharming calves: Clip the halr from the top of the horn when the ealf is from two to five days old, slightly moisten the end of the stick of emistic potash with waler, or moisten the top of the horn bud, and ruh the tip of each horn firmly with the potush for about a quarter of n minute, or until a slight impression has been made on the center of the horn. The horns should be treated in this way from two to four times at Interval of five plications n little blood appears in the center of the horn, it will then only be necessary to give another very slight rubbing with the potnsh.

The following directions should be carefully observed: The operation is hest performed when the calf is under five days old, and should not be attempted after the ninth day. Canstle notash can be obtained from any druggist in the form of a while stick; when not in use it should be kept in a stoppered glass bottle la a dry place, as it rapidly deterlorates when expo d lo the alr. thre man should ield the calf while an assistant uses h.
